RIGHT HAND
1	I am a teen rock chick.
2	I'd like to get away from my mother's cooking.
3	Lizzie Stokes likes John Noakes. She just doesn't know it yet.
4	Mr Trice is a god.
5	Once upon a time, they'd have left me on a mountainside.

LEFT HAND
6	Sugar rots your teeth
7	And vegetables rock.
8	I'd be a better person if only I had a horse.
9	Life will never be the same without S Club 7.
10	'Night Dad. [said softly, regretfully; father is dead]

RIGHT FOOT
11	Norma Jean and Hemmingway's cats.
12	13- [starts with confidence, then breaks off and counts herself into correct number] 11, 12. I'm crap at maths.
13	13. [said with vigour] Lies don't count if you cross your fingers.
14	14. "Ruby is particularly talented in her imaginative and argumentative essay work." Mum thinks that's funny.
15	Freckles don't fade.

LEFT FOOT
16	16. If elephants painted their toenails, I'd still be climbing cherry trees.
17	17. The Great Salt Lake makes your swimming costume run and turned me green.
18	18. Mrs Kedge keeps pet snails.
19	Having a birthday three days after Christmas sucks. Mum should have planned it better.
20	This little piggy got cloned.
21	I have many hidden talents.
